JUDGE, 29 OTHERS INDICTED IN OAKLAND RUM PROBE

CITIES FIGHT PROPOSED RAISE

Hearing of an application of the Pacific Gas and Electric company for a raise in rates in the San Francisco bay area started before the State Railroad Commission in San Francisco yesterday with Thomas Carlson, Richmond city attorney in attendance.

A. F. Hockenbecker and other officials of the gas and electric company were present and launched their plea for higher rates in connection with the bringing of natural gas to the bay regions. Company witnesses occupied the entire day yesterday and no testimony opposing the revised rates was introduced at that time.

Rate H

Today, however, C. C. Brown, gas administrator for the commission is expected to present testimony against the company's application.

It was revealed that Brown is ready to testify that the P. G. & E. earned 9.7 percent on the capital invested in 1928 and that if the rate schedule remains unchanged, even under the company's proposed expansion program the rate of return would be at least 7.4 percent.

It was pointed out by those opposing the rate change that the

CHEAP WATER SOUGHT HERE

A campaign for cheap water for industrial purposes is to be launched by the Richmond chamber of commerce.

Upon recommendation of the industrial committee to the directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday, a committee is to be named to confer with the board of the East Bay Municipal Utility district and also bring the thought before the chambers of commerce of other east bay cities for similar action.

The move followed a report by Fred D. Parr who has just returned from an eastern trip to contact new industries, that one of the greatest handicaps to securing new industries is the cost of water for manufacturing purposes. The chamber leaders will ask that industrial water be marketed at a substantially lower rate than domestic water in the hope of attracting new industries. It was argued that this is a vital necessity in view of the low water rates being offered by southern California to new industries.

A more intensive cultivation of the eastern industrial field is to be made by Richmond, it was decided by the directors yesterday. They authorized expenditure to send a representative east four times a year instead of twice a year as at present.

This suggestion was put forth by George N. Rooker, chairman of the industrial committee, following the complete report by Parr of his eastern trip and the contacts which he had made there.

"We believe," said Rooker, "that the prospects which Parr has developed should not be allowed to lapse but should be cultivated intensively every three months in order that no other may be allowed to reap the harvest after we have planted the seed. Parr has secured an enthusiastic reception everywhere he has gone and has brought back some very definite prospects for new industries. We believe we can secure some of these if we keep at the work by proper follow up."

Parr saw many industrial leaders on the trip from which he has just returned. He saw the executives of a big equipment, a tire, company, a manufacturer of household equipment, and two outstanding automotive concerns all of whom are interested in western sites and are inclined favorably toward Richmond since he laid his reports before them, Parr stated.

Court of Customs Appeals. The published roll call, when brought to the attention of the senate began a controversy over secret sessions which provoked demands that they be abolished and culminated

The man was identified through fingerprints as M. D. Colson, 27, former San Quentin inmate with a long prison record. He was suffering from what appeared to be a recent wound.

The woman was said by police to be Mrs. Grace Kearney, wife of Jerry Kearney. The husband is widely known as acquainted with those engaged in rum running activities.

Guards of the money car were slain before their assailants, said by witnesses to have been three men, took approximately $5000 in cash and $80,000 in checks and escaped.

BRITAIN LONG WAKING

All of the British political parties have gone to the country with a solution of the unemployment problem that has been acute in the tight little isle since 1919. The plans are suspiciously alike. In this respect they show the tendencies of politicians all over the civilized and democratic world to discover after half centuries to centuries of striving that where two policies are proposed usually only one is workable. The other is vote catching in intent but not vote getting in effect.

The outcome of the British election is probably foreshadowed by the elections; by the fact of British conservatism and by the strength that assist the party in power.

England needs a way to put its people to work. But England, since the war period has shrunk from applying the oily common-sense method—positive and determined control of its population. By this we do not suggest birth control, although that has its fundamental application to all so-called sociological problems, based as they are on the principle of biological necessity. What is intended by population control is the same proposition that should apply to disgusting aspects of New York City as a crime-breeding slum-ridden overloaded center. The British empire contains enough unworked wilderness to afford homes for all who push at the frontiers of the restricted island. But the British hate to leave home. While they produce the most venturesome and outlandish settlers in all parts of the world, they also spawn ugly, evil, sodden minded classes, who would rather die than sacrifice the rotten beer that is their only joy.

The coal mining, iron working, textile and shipping industries of England do not furnish places for all the toilers of the 60,000,000 or more who are determined to inhabit the islands. One of the proposals of the campaign is to embark the state on a magnificent and costly program of highway and railway construction, homebuilding and civic improvement. But that will only constitute a palliative. It will not cure the disease, but in time will aggravate it.

British industry will do more to solve the problem than all the campaigns in the world. On this side of the water we shall see that farmers will produce more farm aid in any year they decide to do business than all the laws a complacent and fat-headed congress can evolve.

REALTORS WAR ON BILLBOARDS

Practically the entire active membership of the San Francisco Real Estate Board has agreed to the proposal that the number of signs on a property be limited to one, according to the California Real Estate Magazine. The directors of the board have announced that the agreement will be come effective in June and be binding for the period of one year.

The plan is a mutual agreement between the members of the board and not a mandate of the directors.

The movement for the limitation of signs was prompted by the belief that they create an unsightly condition and give a wrong impression of real estate conditions. It is also claimed that the "overbilling" of a property is a detriment to the property itself, rendering it less salable than if the billing were limited to one sign.

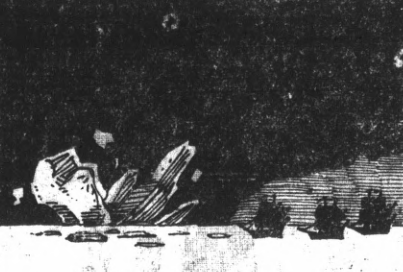

The wets have been yelling a good deal about "life for a pint" and it probably is true that a good many lives have been snuffed out in the last few years because people have consumed even less than a pint of the stuff the bootlegger hands out.—Detroit Free Press.

The Hawaiian islands are said to have the same temperature all the year around. But the Hawaiians are very clever people and have found other ways to start a conversation.—Detroit News

PAIR SOAR ON IN ENDURANCE FLIGHT TRY

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 22.—UP—So near, and yet so far from their homes below them, Reg. Robbins and Jim Kelly, remained aloft in their Ryan monoplane tonight, beyond the half way mark in their attempt to set a new world sustained flight record.

At times only a few hundred feet from their wives who waited for them below the aviators were still three days away from the time they have set to return to earth.

They passed the half way mark at 2:33 p. m. today with motors of their plane humming evenly. Seventy five hours remain before the aviators' record can be better than that of "Question Mark" fliers.

Passing their eighty-fourth hour in the air, the endurance fliers swooped low over Meacham field at 11:35 tonight, three and a half days after they took off Sunday, and zoomed back into the darkness toward their 142 hour goal.

In notes dropped late today the fliers expressed some concern over the possibility of fire breaking out during the transfer of gasoline but refused to accept parachutes, which were lowered from the refueling plane.

Whether the fliers had succeeded in making repairs to the damaged tachometer could not be learned tonight. A new shaft was lowered to them in the first refueling today.

The next refueling will come at six a. m. Thursday.

HACK LED HORNSBY IN HOMER'S LAST YEAR—31 TO 21. ALTHOUGH ROGERS LED THE LEAGUE IN SLUGGING.

Hack Wilson, one of the hottest outfielders in the national pastime, feels that the acquisition of Rogers Hornsby by the Cubs is going to be the means of boosting his own batting average higher than it has ever been before. Hack has been a good performer for the Chicago entry ever since he joined it, but he has a hunch that competition is going to make this his banner year.

Hack has always been noted as a "clean" hitter and he doesn't relish the idea of Hornsby coming in and stealing his thunder. Any way you take it, this battle between the batting giants will do the Chicago Cubs plenty of good in the pennant scramble.

KID CHOCOLATE WINS OVER LABARBA

NEW YORK, May 22.—UP—Kid Chocolate, Cuban negro, won a ten round decision from Fige LaBarba of California, former flyweight champion, before a crowd of 18,000 here tonight. The decision was unpopular.

They crowded around the ring to protest. The fight was close either way, but LaBarba's sensational last round finish which had Chocolate retreating around the ring, won him an edge in the United Press score. LaBarba was given five rounds. Chocolate four with one even.

Referee Lou Magnolia and Judge Charles F. Mathison gave the decision to Chocolate while Judge George Kelly voted for a draw. Chocolate landed the harder punches almost upsetting the Californian with rights to the chin in the fourth, seventh and ninth. However, on each occasion Chocolate permitted LaBarba to recover and take the offensive away from him.

Much Glass Used In American Cars

During 1928 the glass industry in the United States produced over 65,000,000 square feet of plate glass to be used in the manufacture of automobiles, says a report from the National Automobile club. This amount represents sixty percent of the entire plate glass output of the United States.

INCREASE IN GAS RATES SCORED

commission has gone on record, in its decision in the precedent making Ventura gas case, as believing that seven percent is a reasonable return on gas utilities' invested capital.

8.3 Percent Return

It was stated that Brown will testify today that under the proposed rates the company would earn 8.3 percent return on its investment during the first year the rates were in operation.

Hockenbeamer was the first witness at the hearing, at which the company is asking first, approval of its plan to bring natural gas to this region; and second, enactment of revised rates based on the use of mixed gas.

Mixed Gas

Hockenbeamer expressed his opinion that the company's $13,100,000 development program would stimulate a great industrial development in the bay regions and would materially increase the consumption of gas and would tend to reduce consumers' bills through increased efficiency of the new mixed gas which would be part natural and part manufactured gas.

Hockenbeamer, when questioned by C. P. Cutten, attorney for the company, declared that he believed the proposed rate entirely reasonable.

At this point Preston Higgins, attorney for the city of Oakland asked: "How can you assert that the increased rates are reasonable when the Railroad Commission has already called upon numerous gas companies, including your own to show cause why their rates should not be revised downward?"

Hockenbeamer insisted, however that he believed in the fairness of the proposed charge to consumers.

DAKS DEFEAT MISSIONS AT S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—UP—A concerted drive of three teams to decrease the margin by which San Francisco's Missions have gained first place of the Pacific Coast league was entirely successful today.

The Los Angeles Angels, San Francisco Seals, and Oakland's nine were victorious while the Missions lost, thus bringing the Angels within seven games of the leaders while the Seals and Oaks were nine games behind instead of ten as they had been.

The sixth inning was the crucial point of Oakland's 5 to 3 victory over the Missions. In that frame Oakland broke a one to one tie with two runs and hung on to that lead.

Los Angeles had to make two runs in the ninth inning to beat Portland, 7 to 5. The Angels had scored five runs in the second inning but Portland tied it up with four runs in the fourth and fifth innings. The Angels were out hit but made every one of their hits count for a run.

The Seals and Seattle each had ten hits but San Francisco had little trouble in winning, 6 to 1.

"Hank" Hulvey, Hollywood pitcher, was the individual star of the day, holding the Sacramento Senators to three hits and shutting them out so the Shells might win 7 to 0.

Just another good thing added to the other good things of life

CHRONIC CASE OF SORE LEG; LIMB TURNED BLACK;

FONG WAN
Herbalist
About 15 years ago I underwent an operation that left my leg in an ulcerated condition from which I suffered a great deal. I treated with many herbs, but got no relief. One wanted to operate on the leg; Herbalist suggested that I amputate it.

About two and one-half years ago my leg turned black and I was not able to wear a shoe.
A friend told me about Fong Wan, so I consulted him. After following his instructions as to diet and taking the herbs that he compounded now after eleven months my leg is in normal condition, and I am in perfect health.

KING VIDOR IN INCOME TAX TANGLE

strict attorney's office late today and it was rumored without confirmation that a compromise may be effected in Miss Boardman's case whereby she will plead guilty and pay a heavy fine.

J. Marjorie Berger, who prepared returns for both Miss Boardman and Vidor in 1925, recently was indicted in connection with the actress' statement. Miss Berger has been named in five indictments now pending including one involving Tom Mix.

Made Own Return
In the indictment against Miss Boardman today, the government revealed that she had prepared her own return for 1926 and 1927 after Miss Berger had compiled the 1925 statement.

The government held her gross income for 1925 was $41,826.72 and that she should have paid $3,541.92 tax instead of the $1,500.75 she remitted. Her 1926 income was placed at $52,177.59 by the government and her tax at $5,147.38 instead of $1,522.76. For 1927 federal authorities held she should have paid $425.09 tax instead of $989.44.

In connection with Vidor's return for 1925, prepared by Miss Berger, the government held it should have received $25,966.31 instead of $22,272.76 he paid, an alleged evasion of $3,693.55. Vidor's statement showed an income of $22,550.04, but the government declares he received $50,000 from Metro Goldwyn Mayer studios alone.

In 1926 the government had $13,088.60 due it instead of the $895.34 he paid, according to claims.

Method Revealed
With the moves today the manner in which the government obtained evidence for the numerous screen colony actions to date was revealed.

It was learned that many months ago a young woman entered Miss Berger's office as an accountant. She worked in the office for weeks and at night obtained photostatic copies of Miss Berger's records. The girl was a skilled person. The copies resulted in the indictment of Miss Berger, Miss Boardman, Tom Mix and some of Mix's associates, on charges of making improper returns.

SENATORS SCORE OUSTING OF REPORTER IN SENATE PROBE

tance to the American people about their government.

There was a representative of a press association other than the United Press on the floor when Curtis made his ruling, and the vice president called for the sergeant-at-arms to escort the reporter from the floor, but he walked out, unattended.

La Follette blocked consideration of a resolution by Senator Reed, Repn., Pa., which proposed to cast a blanket censure on any senator and state officials who gave out the roll-call. The Wisconsin senator told Reed to wait until the rules committee investigated before casting reflection on the whole senate.

Johnson Aids
Mallon was defended by La Follette, Johnson, Repn., Calif., and Nye, Repn., N. H., chairman of the rules committee, announced today that no action is contemplated at this time against other newspapermen who published the roll-call. Members are supposed to maintain secrecy regarding proceedings in secret executive session on nominations. However, information usually leaks out.

Mallon wrote a dispatch several months ago revealing the roll-call on the nomination of Roy O. West to be secretary of the interior. This provoked a controversy, but no action was taken. Several senators attacked secret sessions, demanding the nomination be considered in open session, and Senator Wesley Jones, Repn. Wash., Republican Whip, introduced an amendment to the rules for open sessions.

Senator Johnson told the senate he did not "recognize the right of the chairman of the rules committee to bar the United Press and allow other correspondents on the floor."

"I have been here 13 years," he declared, "and I have seen many contests in executive session and I have never seen one such contest which was not fully and accurately reported in New York papers on the following day."

MALLON AIDED BY UNITED PRESS
NEW YORK, May 22.—UP.—Karl A. Eickel, president of the United Press, today issued the following statement when advised the senate rules committee had barred Paul R. Mallon from the floor and has subpoenaed him to inquire how he obtained the executive session vote on the Lenroot confirmation.

"The United Press carried the story on the vote in executive session on the Lenroot confirmation by Paul Mallon with complete appreciation of its significance."

"There is no law nor rule in the United States that I know of that prevents a newspaperman from obtaining news in a legitimate way, and Mallon obtained the facts on the Lenroot confirmation in exactly the same way as newspapermen in Washington have obtained the facts on senate executive sessions for years."

"The rules committee have opened the exceedingly interesting and fundamental question of how far they can go in attempting to censor directly or indirectly news of vital impor-

Lineman Saved As Worker Cuts High Power Line

CONCORD, May 22.—Frank Jansen, of Pittsburg, a lineman in an Oakland hospital in a critical condition suffering from severe burns sustained when he slipped while working on a 40 foot pole here yesterday and fell across two power wires carrying 4400 volts of electricity.

Jansen's life was probably saved by the quick actions of another lineman, whose name was not learned, who witnessed the fall. The lineman quickly severed the power lines, allowing them to fall to the ground. Jansen hung to the pole by his safety belt until he was lowered with a block and tackle.

Dr. B. E. Todd was rushed to the scene by Traffic Officer Lon Buck and administered first aid. Dr. Todd declared that Jansen would have been killed had he remained on the wires a second longer.

CHICAGO YEGGS SLAY PRIVATE DETECTIVE

CHICAGO, May 22.—(U.P.)—Gangster guns, which recently concentrated on rival ranks in the war of extermination, have turned on the forces of the law which are directing investigations of underworld activities.

This was the opinion of police heads here today following the slaying of Detective Joseph Sullivan, investigator who signed the complaint against "Machine Gunner" Jack McGurn, indicted in the massacre of seven members of the "Bugs" Moran gang.

Sullivan, confidential investigator for Deputy Police Commissioner John Stege in the Moran and other recent gang slayings, was killed in true gangster style. His body, bullet holes in the head and back, was found in his automobile.

Struggle Made
Both eyes were blackened, the face and body bruised, and one leg apparently was broken, indicating a terrific struggle preceded the slaying.

Sullivan was the second officer slain in the past week. Patrolman Roy Martin was murdered when he attempted to trap a gang of extortionists who had sought to obtain $50,000 from Moses Blumen-thal.

Detective Sullivan had been assigned to the extortionist case and also had been investigating the "little massacre" in which three followers of "Scarface" Al Capone were killed. The triple slaying was regarded by police as an act of reprisal for the Moran massacre.

Gang Hunted
A pool of blood on the floor and several bullet holes in the wall indicated Sullivan attempted to shoot it out with his enemies. Fingerprint experts took impressions from the steering wheel, ignition lock and doors of Sullivan's car; a round-up of hoodlums and gangsters, particularly those known to have frequented Bolton's place, was ordered by Stege, in a city wide hunt for the slayer or slayers.

INTEND TO WED
A notice of intention to wed was filed in Oakland yesterday by Albert A. Alloro, 41, 433 Nineteenth street, Richmond, and Ethel G. Piper, 38, 263 Lester avenue, Oakland.

Passengers of the plane were R. M. Elerich, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lewis, Cheyenne, Wyo.; O. G. Richardson, Oakland; E. G. Reid, professor of aeronautics at Stanford university; W. G. Rich and B. E. Taylor, both of San Francisco.

They praised the ability of Hugh Barker, pilot, and Harold T. Lewis, co-pilot, in the emergency and said no one was even frightened by the experience.

For the next 30 days your first call for radio service will be answered free of charge by our repair expert.

CITY HALL HAS NEW COVERING FOR FLOORS

Spring housecleaning was completed at the Richmond city hall yesterday and the halls and stairs have put on a bright shiny appearance, for all those who care to visit and see how the city's business is conducted.

C. L. Petersen, 2224 Macdonald avenue, has just completed laying the new battleship linoleum in the halls of the building. The stairs have been equipped with rubber mats set off with bright metal hardware trimmings.

One of the features of the laying of the linoleum is the use of Lino Base, a patent of Petersen's. Under this scheme a strip of linoleum about three inches wide is extended up on the wall of the building. This does away with corners and allows easier cleaning of the floor.

Petersen will start work on the laying of new linoleum in Fire House No. 2 today and upon completion of the work there will lay a new floor covering at the police station.

2:30 this afternoon in Antioch. Mrs. Allyn was formerly a neighbor of the boy's family and she is godmother to John's brother, Nick.
